JIM NYE

Ex Senator Nye of Nevada is visiting Washington As plain "Jim Nye" he is familiarly known to us He is one of the brightest handsomest most popular men who has ever been in Congress Nothing or nobody was out of the range of his wit Even the stately Sumner whose pomposity inspires awe in the most thoughtless was a target for his neighbor's repartee Nye is a native of New York State but emigrated to Nevada while Nevada was quite young and figured there as Governor of Virginia City during that remarkable gold excitement so graphically described in Roughing It Mark Twain seems to have had a great admiration for Nye, and has given us a characteristic sketch of him in his President's Reception

"Many and many a time" writes the inimitable Mark "I've seen him stand up and smile on his children (Washoes and Piutes) as he called them in his motherly way beam on them by the hour out of his splendid eye and fascinate them with his handsome face and comfort them with his persuasive tongue seen him stand up there and tell anecdotes and lies and quote Watts's hymns to them till he just took all the war spirit right out of them and sent them away bewildered with his inspired mendacity Most remarkable man Jim Nye He can tell a lie with that purity of accent that grace of utterance that convincing emotion I do reckon he is the handsomest creature about making the most of his chances that ever found an all sufficient substitute for mother's milk in politics and sin" —Washington Correspondence Inter Ocean

AN OPEN LETTER TO ATTORNEY GENERAL WILLIAMS

[illegible] HILL Jan 11th 1874

GEO H WILLIAMS Attorney General Washington City—Dear Sir—Your letter to the President asking the withdrawal of your nomination for Chief Justice is before me and likewise an article in the DAILY OREGONIAN of yesterday in which it is stated that those who never indorsed Hipple were they who made you Senator

The burthen of your letter coupled with the paper extract brings vividly to memory the true history of the brief years that connect these events You must bear with me in recalling portions of it to your memory lest in your forgetfulness you fail to recognize the fruits you now reap as legitimate

The OREGONIAN in the article quoted from says you "are not naturally a man of bad purposes of dishonest instincts, of a corrupt heart" and you say of yourself "I performed with clean hands and upright purpose all the duties of public trust to which I have been called" And therefore you complain that the floodgates of calumny have been opened upon you If this be so or not, it is clear that there is wrong somewhere and I propose unasked to help you find it I have helped you in other days, and have yet your written acknowledgement of the service It is no mean office to help a great man though fallen and with me it is now a privilege and responsibility that I hasten to assume

Ecce Homo enlightens the world of thought with the broad declaration that in difficult circumstances few men can wield extraordinary power long without positively committing crime If this be true our difficulty and my labor is half through with I recollect, too, that the philosophers imagined some such situation and presented it in the fable of the Ring of Gyges The question with them did not involve a doubt of the position of Ecce Homo but whether the power, under circumstances like yours to distinguish between right and wrong did not vanish altogether I propose to show you by the presentation of a few brief facts that this question in the mind of the philosophers no longer exists to puzzle the minds of this nor coming ages but that it has been demonstrated in you In doing so I must be permitted to take for granted, that what you say of yourself, you think, and that the estimate made of you by the editor of the OREGONIAN in his youthful days was correct and just

In April 1870, and at the National Hotel breakfast table, in Washington you handed me a dispatch and asked me did I think it genuine The dispatch was from Oregon and was signed by a resident of Corvallis and H W Scott now editing the Bulletin, but then the OREGONIAN It contained a call on you for more money stating that the amount sent was insufficient that it would take at least five thousand more to carry the election Prior to my leaving here in March reports were circulated through the medium of the Democratic press that you had sent home money to corrupt the election to come off in June following In answering you I called your attention to those reports and being in some measure convinced by your question that they were partly true and thinking that the gentleman of Corvallis had better sense than to send such an open dispatch over the wires and therefore that some Democrat had sent it to entrap you I so answered At that time there was or had been recently pending a measure to purify the elections in the city of New York which had your support I called your attention to that fact, and to the further fact that the Republican party of Oregon had not begun its being nor gained its victories up to that date by bribery and corruption that no party ought to succeed by such means and that public men couldn't succeed permanently who resorted to their use I advised you not to send money, nor have anything to do with parties who resorted to its use for such purposes You received my counsel in silence Afterwards you informed me, upon inquiry that the dispatch was genuine I saw developing in you then what I had never seen before and knew what treatment myself and others who had made you Senator must thenceforth expect at your hands From that time except your treachery in overthrowing the Humboldt R R bill no transaction of yours has been a surprise to me Your bargain with Holladay in reference to that matter your contract with Mr McIdrum the attempt to sell D J Thompson an interest in the stone contract at Washington through Kincaid your removal of Gibbs for the faithful performance of official duty the attempt by your dogs here to blacken my reputation, by asserting that I had attempted to bribe you with O & C R R stock, are, sir, the bits of history that will remain as fresh in memory as the name of Geo H Williams Please see them stript naked of the obfuscating sophistry of yourself and your guides then contrast them with what a more just, upright and honest course would be and you see solved in yourself the problem of the philosophers and a new demonstration of the declaration in "Ecce Homo"

I was treacherously slain in the house of my friends by marchitude. But more terrible is the gleaming blade of avenging justice that now lights upon your head! "Misery likes company"

Your obedient servant

B J PENGRA

THE CRITICISM OF PUBLIC MEN BY THE PRESS

It will be a very gloomy day for this country when there is not a considerable number of newspapers able and willing to candidly ex[illegible] In an instant we shall see that the existence of an intelligent firm and disinterested press is an indispensable condition to the success of representative government in modern times We could not make free institutions work without it We are not a community of Athenian Democrats—we cannot all get together in a public place and talk over the claims to confidence of public men most of whom we know personally We must have the best agents we can get to transact our public business and we can only select them on the knowledge we get through the newspapers Very few of us have any other means of information and the intimate knowledge that a few influential men may have concerning candidates for public favor would be useless in our country if it could not be communicated through the papers

Many people even the sensitive public servants we have referred to will acknowledge these truths in the abstract; but they shrink from their application Yet we must have them applied The people must know all they can fairly learn about the men whom they are asked to employ In his private business every careful citizen investigates a man's character before he trusts him He often investigates a great many things likely to throw light on character which it is unpleasant for the employee to have looked into He does not hesitate to inquire as to a clerk's associates or as to his habits of expenditure or the place in which a book keeper passes his leisure time Every public man must be ready to submit not to these inquiries for their concern private relations but to such as will throw the any light on their fitness for public trust which these throw upon fitness for private trusts Doubtless the result is not often agreeable to those whose career is the subject of inquiry neither is the process agreeable to those who go through with it It is often laborious, sometimes tedious and vexatious and very apt to be thankless The appreciation of such services by the general public would afford but a slight compensation for the performance of them But they are necessary and they are generally rendered precisely as the best services of men in public place are rendered from an honorable desire to do some good work in the little time that each has to labor

Nothing can be plainer than that the most careful scrutiny of the history and character of public men not only is proper but it is a duty to which the press is bound. It is a duty too not less to the community in which the press exists but to the press itself. We should have small faith in the progress and prosperity of newspapers in this country if we did not know that so many of them are conducted by honest and courageous men who cannot be bought and who have too much sense to become subservient to any set of selfish men. It is upon such men that the life of the press and its usefulness and growth in power depend The politician who would make the press their tool would soon ruin it as well as inflict lasting injury on the country —New York Times

WELL STATED

In an address recently delivered before Monmouth Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry Mr Stephen Staats of Polk county defined the position of the Grangers with reference to political parties as well as it could be defined We take the following extract from the Willamette Farmer, in which paper the entire address is published

Every tiller of the soil has the ballot and with the proper exercise of that power he can say to the lordly monopolists and to all those working in their interests You have run your course you have heaped burden upon burden on our shoulders till we can no longer bear it we now surrender your power to do us harm we intend by the power of the ballot to loosen your grasp upon our hard earnings we intend to take a position of power and influence in the council of the Nation and State in proportion to our numbers, we intend that honest men shall take the place of paid corruptionists and rascally politicians, we intend with all the power and influence we can command to take some steps to stay the tide of corruption which now floods the land This do Brother Patrons, make these resolves fully determined, with energy and unanimity, to accomplish the same and then may you promise yourselves a brighter future, then may you have some assurance that your hard earnings will not be swept from your grasp by the ruthless hand of legislative vultures fawning at the knees of a railroad king

But we are all aware that the discussion of political questions is forbidden by our Order The Grange, as such has nothing to do with party politics Its members are composed of both political parties they meet together in the Grange for mental, moral, social and material improvement If they think that political reform is needed, they will attend to that as good citizens, as farmers That there are reforms needed in both political parties no one will deny neither political party is perfect by a long way both have corrupt and bad men in office these should be turned out if the farmers have votes enough to do it A deal of purification is needed, and as farmers are the largest sufferers by the extravagance or corruption of the law makers it is no more than right that they should take a hand in correcting abuses. The Grangers make war upon no particular party, creed corporation or class but will fight abuses or wrongs anywhere they may find them And this even we do as citizens and in that capacity alone. Reform is our watchword, justice to all, special privileges to none, is our creed. Fair compensation for labor is what we demand Hands off is our motto We ask no special legislation to protect us We say that no special legislation should be given to other classes to enrich them at our expense, in other words we want right to prevail

Combination and organization on the part of the agricultural class is necessary when dishonest men conspire against their interests and one of the objects of our organization being to secure just and honest legislation, that object can only be secured by keeping up a public sentiment (not to be misled by any specious or partisan cry) which shall demand of every [illegible] other thorough honesty and efficiency [illegible] idents Congressmen legislators and judges [illegible] answer at the bar of public opinion [illegible] dge the signs of the times aright, [illegible] disposition on the part of the agricultural class to create irresponsible tribunals [illegible] deliver the people, bound hand and foot, to their oppressors For generations to come the [illegible] majority of our population will be in the rural districts and the nation will grow stronger and the people more prosperous and happy as the agricultural people become more intelligent and influential and more active and alert in affairs in which their material and political interests are involved. Knowledge it is said is power then let us acquire knowledge, and by a proper use of it we, the agricultural class can check the pernicious tendency of that legislation which has so long been oppressive to the people.

The attitude of the Granges toward political parties, as here explained, is exactly what it should be in order to make the order most serviceable to the agricultural classes of the country, and through them to the community at large Not a political party nor the ally of any political party, the Grangers are in favor of reforming the public service so that the evils of class legislation and official corruption shall be, as far as possible, done away with, and that without regard to the question what party is responsible for those evils In other words, the farmers are to be emancipated from the thralldom of partizan politics, and hold themselves in a position to give their support to party candidates and party measures, or withhold that support, according to their best judgment of the public good in every particular case Thus has the order of Patrons of Husbandry been instrumental in leading the farming community up to that high ground upon which every citizen of every occupation ought to stand It is gratifying to witness the rapid growth of that sentiment, pioneered by the Grangers but now fast becoming general, which ranks political parties merely as means, the end being the public weal When this sentiment shall have its legitimate sway among the masses of the people, the nomination of a candidate by any given party or faction, will no longer be regarded as a sufficient reason for supporting him, and consequently all parties and factions will realize and act upon the necessity of bringing out their best men if they would avoid defeat This would, in most cases, secure capable and honest officers, who would devote their talents faithfully to the discharge of the trusts reposed in them. Fair and just laws and the honest administration of them would follow naturally, and the reforms which the country, not Oregon alone, but all over the Republic, so greatly needs, would be effected in ways so quiet and yet so effectual, that we should scarcely know when or how they were accomplished, though the general prosperity and happiness of the whole country would testify to their thoroughness

DALLES AND SANDY WAGON ROAD

In a very well considered editorial article the Dalles Mountaineer urges upon persons who have money to invest the eligibility of the State warrants issued for the construction of the Dalles and Sandy Wagon Road as an object of such investment The great utility of this road as a means of travel between this valley and Eastern Oregon, will not be controverted The fact that the management of the company having control of the navigation of the Columbia, has been quite as generous as that of any other corporation enjoying such privileges does not argue that there is no necessity for this road The opening of additional channels of travel can not but be beneficial to both Eastern and Western Oregon and especially to the former

By the last Legislature an act was passed appropriating for the construction of this road, a sum sufficient with what private interests are enlisted in it, to insure its completion But this appropriation is from the [illegible] or swamp and overflowed lands and the fact that some questions have been raised as to the title of the State to these lands has naturally tended to retard their sales by the State and thus to prevent the fund for the payment of these warrants from being as large as would otherwise be So the warrants cannot be paid on presentation But the Commissioners under the act of the Legislature referred to, propose to meet this difficulty by disposing of the warrants at such a discount as will pay the purchaser well for waiting, say three years for their payment, at or before the expiration of which time there appears to be ample room for expecting them to be paid. It is proposed to deliver to every man who will pay $300 coin between this time and the first day of next June, $400 of these State warrants The warrants bear interest at 10 per cent per annum So the investment of $300 in warrants of the par value of $400 will be equivalent to loaning the money at a little over 24 per cent per annum, and taking these bonds as security That is $300 invested in these warrants will produce $520 if paid at the end of three years This certainly is a fair showing

THE LAST EXHIBITION OF SCOTT'S BASENESS

For some days past the Bulletin has been teeming with the grossest personal abuse of Judge Deady of the United States Court A column in one number is not too much space for that paper to devote to the task of blacking the reputation of this distinguished citizen of Oregon And yet not a single specification of the facts constituting the offense with which Judge Deady is chargeable. There is apparently no motive for these attacks, except the malice of the Custom House editor of the Bulletin. The unswerving integrity and firmness of Judge Deady stands in the way of the consummation of the schemes of the bribers ring and in the way of the accomplishment of any frauds and peculations in office which the editor of the Bulletin contemplates as Collector of Customs Only such small enterprises as that of the landing of the three cases of liquors, recently, can be carried on without danger of detection and detection would be a serious matter with such an incorruptible Judge as Deady on the bench Hence the malice of the ring The secret of the whole case is let out in a conversation reported to have taken place up the valley a few days since, between a prominent gentlemen of the interior and one of the Portland Custom House officials Said the Custom House officer "The fact of the matter is, Deady stands in our way He is so d—d stiff in his ideas of official duty that we can't talk to him, and we mean to have him legislated out of that position It may be a good while the way things seem to be going now but our watchword is 'Vigilance,' and we'll fetch him yet" This is the conclusion of the whole matter Judge Deady is a barrier to the frauds and thefts of the ring, and he must be got out of the way by foul means, since he can not be by fair ones.

The personal and official character of Judge Deady are above the necessity of any defense from us The assaults of the Bulletin upon him are utterly harmless, both by reason of his own high standing and because the person making them has the reputation of being the most untruthful man in Portland People here in Portland who know this individual best, do not hesitate to say publicly that they would not believe him under oath in any matter wherein he might have the slightest personal interest in telling an untruth. We are aware of the gravity of this statement, and we do not make it without knowing whereof we speak Under these circumstances, we do not propose to enter into a formal defense of the character of Judge Deady We merely wished to call attention to the motives that prompt the attacks on him, and show the malice of the Collector of Customs who edits the Bulletin It is not amiss, also, to mention the ingratitude of this man No man in Oregon did so much as Judge Deady to help him into the high position he enjoyed in this community, and in the State at large before he sold himself to Holladay No other man was so good a friend to him And when the fellow turned his back on all his old friends and began to crawl on his belly and lick the boots of Holladay, no other man was so slow to think him wholly corrupted as Judge Deady This kindness and this fast friendship are repaid—how? Look at the Portland Bulletin and let that answer Ingratitude is to every generous mind among the basest of moral crimes, and we have, in the conduct of this Custom House editor, one of the basest instances of it on record

SNAGGED AND SUNK.

Late on Saturday evening it was currently reported on the streets that the O S N Co's steamer Fannie Troup had run on a snag near the mouth of the Cowlitz river and sunk The report occasioned considerable excitement as it was not known whether those on board had escaped or the extent of damages sustained by the boat. In the afternoon a dispatch was received at the office of the O S N Co to the effect that the Fannie Troup had run on a hidden snag and sunk As soon as possible the steamer Rescue was dispatched with assistance of the disabled boat. On Saturday the Fannie Troup in addition to touching at Monticello descends to Cathlamet It appears the boat had reached Monticello in safety and was descending the Cowlitz When reaching the mouth of that stream she ran on a sunken snag which tore a fearful hole in her of [illegible] than twenty feet in length She had on board 300 boxes of tin for the fisheries, and sunk almost instantly after striking [illegible] the boat was traveling at the time [illegible] slow tell of the damage [illegible] more [illegible] Where the boat [illegible] was only about five feet at low tide The Calliope was only a short distance away [illegible] came promptly to the rescue [illegible] all the passengers were transferred to the Calliope and also the freight When the Rescue reached the scene she found the boat deserted At high tide the water is about two feet deep on the deck This morning two large barges will be taken from St Helens and an attempt made to raise the sunken craft. The water was very muddy and the true extent of damages cannot yet be ascertained To-day the Calliope will arrive [illegible]

PORTLAND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PORTLAND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION—REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT AND LIBRARIAN

The regular annual meeting of the Directors and members of the Library Association was held at their rooms on last Saturday evening when the following reports were presented and read by the President and Librarian After the reports had been read Judge Deady moved that the report be adopted, printed and sent to the press for publication

The term of H W Scott [illegible] and P C Schuyler Jr having expired, they were unanimously re-elected Directors

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

To the Members of the Library Association of Portland In the absence of the President of the Association I have the honor to submit the following report which [illegible] Board of Directors for the year ending December 31 1873, being the tenth year of the existence of the Association

The report of the Librarian which will be presented at this meeting will embrace whatever is of interest to you in relation to the additions to and circulation of the Library This report will therefore be for the most part confined to a statement of the financial condition of the Association

The income of the Association for the year has been as follows

From quarterly dues	$ 843 00
From yearly dues	530 00
From fines	[illegible]
From sale of books	[illegible]
From sale of newspapers	18 00
From City of Portland	150 00
Total	[illegible]

EXPENDITURES

Librarian and incidentals	$1 [illegible]
Purchase of books	[illegible]
New papers and periodicals	[illegible]
Lights and fuel	[illegible]
Furnishing rooms	[illegible]
Total	$4 536 01

The following statement exhibits the comparative financial condition of the Association for the year ending 31st of December 1873

Cash on hand as per last annual report	$418 9[illegible]
Balance existing liabilities	[illegible] 00
Net cash resources Dec 31 1872	$253 [illegible]
Income for 1873	$3 583 90
Total	$3 [illegible]
Expenditures	$4 [illegible] 01

Net liabilities, December 31 1873 as follows

ASSETS

Due from City of Portland	$1 00
Cash	16 [illegible]
		$1[illegible]

LIABILITIES

To Treasury warrant drawn	$ [illegible]
To Librarian	[illegible]
		$ [illegible]
Total		$768 [illegible]

The present deficit ($768 02) added to the cash resources at the commencement of the year shows that the Association has run in arrears a fraction over $1 000 in cash resources during the year This statement however is not as discouraging as it appears upon a mere glance at the statement The deficiency is due rather to the efforts to render the Library more attractive to the public than to the decrease in membership The income of the Association was about $200 less than for the year 1872, and its current expenses but a fraction more The deficiency therefore is chiefly due to the increased amount of expenditure for books and periodicals

The Board of Directors in its anxiety to answer the demands of the reading public has not only gone to the limit of prudence in the amount expended for reading matter but has studied to gratify the taste of members in the class of books purchased The selection of reading matter has been chiefly under the direction of the Chairman of the Library Committee, who has faithfully served the Association in that capacity for several years

The Finance Committee reports that the books and vouchers of the Librarian and Recording Secretary have been examined and found correct I can certify from a personal examination of the balances that the account books are carefully and neatly kept

In the last annual report, the President stated that the lease presented to the Association by Messrs Ladd & Tilton had expired but that an offer of renewal had been made provided a permanent fund should be raised within a limited time, An effort was made to raise $10 000 and chiefly by the personal effort of Hon M P Deady subscriptions were obtained to the amount of $8 500 conditioned upon the full amount being subscribed by the 31st of December last Owing to the general depression in all departments of business it has been impossible to get subscriptions to the full amount and it was thought best to procure a modification of the terms of the subscriptions by reducing the whole amount to be subscribed to $5,000 and to extend the time to May 1st 1874 subscribers to the amount of over $7 000 have given their assent to the new conditions and it is confidently hoped within the time named the amount will be raised

Meantime the Association is dependent entirely upon the bounty of Mr Ladd for the rooms it occupies The subscription should be filled up at once and enlarged in amount To fail in this effort with the wealth possessed in Portland would be to exhibit a lack of appreciation of Mr Ladd's generosity and to check benefactions of a like nature

The following appeal made by Mr Ladd in his annual report while President of the Association nine years since, and years prior to the presentation of the lease of the rooms now occupied by the Association may be quoted with added force

No person will attempt to deny the many advantages of the Association to the people of Portland young and old permanent and transient It is well calculated to be useful and elevating, at home and to give a desirable character abroad Under these circumstances it is a source of regret to find several of our members who could afford to be generous withholding their aid from us It is to be hoped that they may yet see the duty and propriety of aiding liberally in this worthy enterprise

While the subscription to furnish a permanent home for the Association has been presented for the most part to those who possessed means to give to such purposes, there is a duty to be performed by the great body of the membership quite as important The original purchase of books was made entirely from the funds donated for the purpose and to a great extent given by those who either have private libraries or who are so engrossed in their pursuits as to have little time to devote to reading It is not too much to expect that the public should pay the current expenses of the Association and in addition give it such support as will furnish means to meet the popular demand in the purchase of books This much continued success can only be attained by each one making an effort to procure additional members and enlist public interest in its support

Respectfully submitted
HENRY FAILING, Vice President

Dear Sir—Your Favorite Prescription has done my wife a world of good She has taken nearly two bottles and has felt better the past two weeks than at any time in the past two years No more periodical pains none of that aching back or dragging sensation in her stomach she has been accustomed to for several years I have so much confidence in it that I would be perfectly willing to warrant to certain customers of ours who would be glad to get hold of relief at any expense I have tried many Patent Medicines but never had any occasion to extol one before

We noticed in one of our exchanges this week the statement of Dea. THE BABES IN THE WOODS

BY BRET HARTE

Something characteristic eh?
Humph I reckon that you mean by that
Something that happened in our way
Here at the crossin of Big Pine Flat
Times ain't now as they used to be
When gold was flush and the boys were frisky,
And a man would pull out his battery
For anything—maybe the price of whisky

Nothing of that sort eh That's strange
Why I thought you might be diverted
Hearing how Jones of Red Rock Range
Drew his Hint to the Unconverted
And saying Whar will you have it shot
Cherokee Bob at the last Debating
What was the question? I forgot—
But Jones didn't like Bob's way of stating

Nothing of that kind eh You mean
Something milder? Let's see—Oh Joe
Tell to the stranger that little scene
Out of the Babes in the Woods You know
Babes was the name we gave 'em sir
Two lean lads in their teens and greener
Than even the belt of spruce and fir
Where they built their nests and each day grew leaner

No one knew where they came from None
Cared to ask if they had a mother
Runaway school boys maybe One
Tall and dark as a spruce the other
Blue and gold in the eyes and hair
Soft and low in his speech but rarely
Talking with us and we didn't care
To get at the secret at all unfairly

For they were so quiet so sad and shy
Content to trust each other solely
That's somehow we'd always shut one eye
And never seem to observe them wholly,
As they passed to their work 'Twas a worn-out claim
And it paid them grub They could live without it
For the boys had a way of leaving game
In their tent and forgetting all about it.

Yet no one asked for their secret. Dumb
It lay in their big eyes heavy hollows.
It was understood that no one should come
To their tent unawares, save the bees and swallows
So they lived alone Until one warm night
I was sitting here at the tent door so, sir,
When out of the sunset's rosy light
Up rode the Sheriff of Mariposa.

I knew at once there was something wrong
For his hand and his voice shook just a little
And there isn't much you can fetch along
To make the sinews of Jack Hill brittle
Go warn the Babes!" he whispered hoarse
Tell I'm coming—to get and scurry
For I've got a story that's bad and worse
I've got a warrant G--d d—n it hurry!"

Too late! they had seen him across the hill,
I ran to their tent and found them lying
Dead in each other's arms, and still
Clasping the drug they had taken flying
And there lay their secret cold and bare
Their life their trial—the old old story!
For the sweet blue eyes and the golden hair
Was a woman's shame and a woman's glory

"Who were they?" Ask no more, or ask
The sun that visits their grave so lightly
Ask of the whispering reeds or ask
The mourning crickets that chirrup nightly,
All of their life but its love forgot,
Everything tender and soft and mystic,
These are our Babes in the Woods you've got,
Well—Human Nature—that's characteristic.

THE SIAMESE TWINS

THE CIRCUMSTANCES ATTENDING THEIR DEATH

A special telegram from Philadelphia to the New York Tribune of January 24th says

Dr Joseph Hollingsworth a physician resident at Mount Airy, Surrey county, about sixty five miles from Greensboro North Carolina, and a graduate of Jefferson College in this city in 1847, since practicing in and around Mount Airy arrived here this evening from his home, in order to consult Dr. Wm. H Pancoast Demonstrator of Anatomy in his Alma Mater Prof Samuel Gross, and other eminent physicians, as to the death and future disposition of the celebrated Siamese twins, Chang and Eng whose family physician he has been for twenty five years at their home—or rather homes, for they had two, three and five miles respectively from Mount Airy. The correspondent of the Tribune had a long talk with him in the office of Dr. Pancoast, who had on the first receipt of the news of the death of the twins, telegraphed, through the Mayor, for permission to make a post mortem examination for the benefit of science. Many of the current stories published in newspapers and encyclopedias are shown to be untrue by the physician, who has known these two singular beings intimately for a quarter of a century Of late years, owing originally to an estrangement between the wives arising out of partiality shown to one over the other in matters of dress and jewelry, they have kept up separate establishments, or farms, two miles apart

It was their unvarying custom to spend three days and a half of each week in each house. So unalterable was this custom that the funeral of a son on one occasion, and the wedding of a daughter on another could not be attended by them because the ceremonies were not at the right house Thursday, Jan 15th was the day for Chang to visit Eng's house The former was the weaker of the two, having been paralyzed three years before on the right side, and ever since suffering from chronic pneumonia. On this night the extreme cold, the rough road and an open carriage conduced to throwing Chang into a severe attack of his affection of the throat, and he sent word to his wife next day that though better, he thought he would have died that night On Friday night the twins slept in the second story of the house, having no one in the room but a little negro, who said they got up after midnight and sat around the fire Chang complaining very much of his throat Eng wanted to go back to bed, but Chang said it hurt his breast too much to lie down However, they did soon afterward get to bed, and nothing more was heard till toward daybreak, Eng was heard crying out for his son William, who slept in an upper room When the family was aroused, after repeated callings from Eng they found Chang dead and Eng with a cold perspiration starting out from his face, pallid, and complaining of excessive cold in his feet, and asking them to pull and rub them However, in about one and a half hours after the alarm Eng expired, all the symptoms of coming death being present.

During the interval they had sent for Dr Hollingsworth, five miles away in the village, but before he could arrive death had come to both The wife of Eng said that he was as hearty as ever he had been the night before, having eaten a substantial supper, and was in nowise apparently affected by his brother's indisposition After the doctor arrived he found them both dead, and observed no difference in their condition from that of ordinary corpses He at once, with a due regard for the interests of his profession and science generally, took measures for the preservation of the bodies until the consent of the families of the deceased could be obtained to a post-mortem examination, and until medical men could have an opportunity to consult As to the consent of the families the most strenuous objection comes from an invalid daughter in the last stages of consumption and other members desire to hear from distant sons of the deceased, one of whom is in California and two or three in Missouri The doctor, with great forethought, dissuaded them from burying the bodies in a neighboring church-yard, and urged that it would be better to embalm or preserve them as long as possible To do this he had a strong wooden box incased in tin, with charcoal surrounding the bodies and deposited the whole in the cellar of the dwelling house where the cold weather will preserve the bodies at least two weeks

MORE RINGS IN NEW YORK.—A New York dispatch of Jan 31st says The Tribune is evidently making preparations for some startling announcements of corruption and fraud in Government or municipal circles It puts forth the following mysterious double-leaded announcement in its editorial column this morning "There were laid before us yesterday certain startling documents gravely affecting high officials The publication of them to us, is a clear duty, but we are unwilling to permit our columns to be used in promulgating papers that must bring such discredit on the American name while there is the remotest possibility of our being able to establish their lack of authenticity We have, therefore set on foot a thorough investigation which will determine the matter In the meantime and for this sole reason we reserve the documents themselves and refrain from any expression of opinion concerning the conduct of the officers involved"

At the annual election of Dalles Grange P of H the following persons were elected for the ensuing fiscal year Robert Mays, Master J H Phillips, Overseer James Fulton, Lecturer Daniel Bolton, Chaplain A McHaley, Stewart Louis Davenport, Assistant Stewart E. S Perham Secretary M M Cushing Treasurer Mrs. C Donnell Ceres Mrs E J Bolton Flora Mrs M Stallwell, Pomona Mrs M J Beezley I A Steward The Grange numbers thirty members and is prospering finely

Liverpool Wheat by mail advices from San Francisco 12s 9d@13s 3d for average California and 13s 9d@14s for club

The very quiet condition of affairs in our local money market precludes the necessity of any extended comment at this time Our city banks are still in fair supply of loanable funds and with their resources well in command are doing quite an active business. Throughout the interior the money is reported as being in general circulation than usual at this season of the year

Eastern Markets

A commercial letter by telegraph dated New York February 1st to a San Francisco exchange says The market for flour has declined Shippers have restricted their purchases materially and the local trade is not sufficient to sustain the values The falling off in prices was from 20c to [illegible] ₩ bbl which was more prominent in the lower grades which are generally taken for export. Wheat has materially declined Liverpool advices have been unfavorable besides adding strength to the Western markets. Choice grades of spring have not been plenty and this in a measure accounts for the low prices. Barley has continued to diminish in supply and large portions of the receipts have been sold previous to their arrival Most of the offerings were of Canadian production and command as high as $2@2 10 ₩ bushel afloat Six thousand bushels of California sold at $2 10

Wool buyers have operated to the extent of their actual wants and the market closes quiet. Prices are not quotably off There is a feeling on the part of the holders of medium and lower grades of wool, which are not in liberal request at the extreme prices now quoted The class of goods in which these wools enter are not moving freely and the prices realized by manufacturers are said to be unremunerative at present In raw material the stock is not very excessive but it is ample for the requirements of the trade even under the active demands and holders are disposed to yield only to induce manufacturers to operate more freely and not in consequence of a pressure of stock

In petroleum and naval stores there has been no important movement and values have ruled lower Business in all kinds of oils has shown marked improvement in comparison with the same weeks of the past year Prices of nearly all kinds are higher.

In groceries there has been a light business both in coffee and sugar, and prices of the latter articles show some weakness In the whole of the former a reduction of ½c ₩ lb has been made.

In tea the market for all descriptions has been rather quiet The tone and prices are somewhat irregular

Hides are dull and prices easier Leather is steady and firm.

Hops are steady and the stock of good hops in this market are extremely low With the exception of a few hundred bails of fine California, and a few choice Bavarian arriving weekly, there is nothing here worth mentioning 40c, however, is still the best price attainable

Grain Crops and Markets.

According to Beerbohm's Trade List of London Jan 3d, the arrivals of Wheat into the United Kingdom for the week ending that day had not been very heavy being only 811 791 cwt. against 1 011 285 cwt the previous week. On the same date there were 205 Wheat cargoes on the way to British ports which were estimated at 1 349 910 qrs. The growing Wheat crop was looking healthy at that report but cold weather was hoped for as it would retard the too rapid growth of the cereal. In France the Wheat markets were all reported firm with large arrivals at the port of Marseilles The German markets had been rather inactive but in Belgium demand and prices had both advanced At Odessa, Russia, prices maintained their high rate owing to the scantiness of supplies The same circular makes a note of a movement which has an air of novelty at this time It is the shipment of some cargoes of Barley from Great Britain to the United States, 'but not,' says the Trade List 'of sufficient extent to affect the market.'

The National Crop Reporter presents in its last issue the closing results of the Wheat, Barley and Rye crop of 1873 Respecting the leading staple Wheat, it says "In the item of Wheat we find that nine States, producing an aggregate in 1872 of 171,264,640 bushels gained in 1873 at the average rate of 4 per cent. or in all, a total of 6 902 668 bushels, and making the aggregate yield for 1873 in those States, 178,367 218 bushels. The States showing a deficiency as compared with 1872, and the amounts of the latter are Illinois, 3 10ths of 1 per cent. Indiana, 3 9-10ths per cent. Ohio, 9-10ths of 1 per cent., and Tennessee 17 2 10ths per cent. The States showing a comparative gain are Iowa 7 5-10ths per cent. Minnesota 15 2 10ths per cent., Missouri, 21 per cent. and Wisconsin, 17 per cent. The quantity of the crop varies in the different States, but it is evident, that the average was superior to that of the previous year

Miscellaneous.

The Chronicle says There was sent from San Francisco last year 1 217,081 lbs Barley and from Sacramento 1 307 417 lbs, total, 2 524 498 lbs or 1 262 tons The large amount of Butter sent last year was principally Eastern, returned on account of an unappreciative market here In Coffee there was a very marked gain over the previous year, leaving this market, in several instances, almost bare of lots in first hands. In domestic Wool the gain for 1873 is 3,531 054 lbs Merchandise unspecified in 1873 amounts to 2 647,634 lbs"

The quantities of freight forwarded to the East over the Central Pacific Railroad in 1873, from the points named, are shown in the following statement

From	lbs	From	lbs
San Francisco	63 596 210	Sacramento	5 194 000
San Jose	1 754 576	Marysville	1 030 982
Stockton	111 709
Totals (lbs)			72 450,482

The totals for 1871 and 1872 were 64,3[illegible] 045 lbs and 65,283,903 lbs, respectively, showing a gain for the year of 7 166 579 lbs over 1872 and of 8,145 437 lbs, as compared with 1871

The coal supply of the United States for 1863 is estimated at forty three million tons or about one million more than last year—the greater part of it anthracite. The Pennsylvania product of anthracite for 1872 was valued at fifty three million dollars

The Eastport Coos Bay Mining Company have declared a dividend of $5 per share amounting to $2 500, payable immediately This is the first dividend since last April In the meantime considerable money has been expended in needed improvements Two fine steamers have been built for this trade and are now running regularly between Coos Bay and San Francisco The company find no difficulty in disposing of all the coal [illegible] market and at good prices

NEW REMEDIES: NEW REMEDIES

623 KEARNEY ST NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness Impotency etc. Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and the broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guard and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by assuming the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: low countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was [illegible] complaint by either of the San Francisco [illegible] quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility [illegible] upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating their symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions [illegible] Dollars coin in registered letter [illegible] the office or through Wells Fargo & Co [illegible] package medicine will be forwarded [illegible] part of the Union. All communications confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate.

THE BABES IN THE WOODS

BY BRET HARTE

Something characteristic eh?
 Humph I reckon that you mean by that
Something that happened in our way
 Here at the crossin of Big Pine Flat
Times aren't now as they used to be
 When gold was flush and the boys were frisky
And a man would pull out his battery
 For anything—may be the price of whisky

Nothing of that sort eh That's strange
 Why I thought you might be diverted
Hearing how Jones of Red Rock Range
 Drawed his Hint to the Unconverted
And saying Whar will you have it shot
 Cherokee Bob at the last Debating
What was the question? I forgot—
 But Jones didn't like Bob's way of stating

Nothing of that kind eh You mean
 Something milder? Let's see—Oh Joe
Tell to the stranger that little scene
 Out of the Babes in the Woods You know
Babes was the name we gave em sir
 Two lean lads in their teens and greener
Than even the belt of spruce and fir
 Where they built their nests and each day grew leaner

No one knew where they came from None
 Cared to ask if they had a mother
Runaway school boys may be One
 Tall and dark as a spruce the other
Blue and gold in the eyes and hair
 Soft and low in his speech but rarely
Talking with us and we didn't care
 To get at the secret at all unfairly

For they were so quiet so sad and shy
 Content to trust each other solely
That's somehow we'd always shut one eye,
 And never seem to observe them wholly
As they passed to their work 'Twas a worn out claim
 And it paid them grub They could live without it
For the boys had a way of leaving game
 In their tent and forgetting all about it.

Yet no one asked for their secret. Dumb
 It lay in their big eyes heavy hollows.
It was understood that no one should come
 To their tent unawares save the bees and swallows
So they lived alone. Until one warm night
 I was sitting here at the tent door so sir,
When out of the sunset's rosy light
 Up rode the sheriff of Mariposa.

I knew at once there was something wrong
 For his hand and his voice shook just a little
And there isn't much you can fetch along
 To make the sinews of Jack Hill brittle
Go warn the Babes! he whispered hoarse
 Tell I'm coming—to get and scurry
For I've got a story that's bad and worse
 I've got a warrant, G—d d—n it hurry!"

Too late! they had seen him across the hill
 I ran to their tent and found them lying
Dead in each other's arms, and still
 Clasping the drug they had taken flying
And there lay their secret cold and bare
 Their life their trial—the old old story!
For the sweet blue eyes and the golden hair
 Was a woman's shame and a woman's glory.

"Who were they?" Ask no more or ask
 The sun that visits their grave so lightly,
Ask of the whispering reeds, or ask
 The mourning crickets that chirrup nightly;
All of their life but its love forgot,
 Everything tender and soft and mystic,
These are our Babes in the Woods you've got,
 Well—Human Nature—that's characteristic

THE SIAMESE TWINS.

THE CIRCUMSTANCES ATTENDING THEIR DEATH

A special telegram from Philadelphia to the New York Tribune of January 24th says

Dr Joseph Hollingsworth a physician resident at Mount Airy, Surrey county about sixty five miles from Greensboro North Carolina, and a graduate of Jefferson College in this city in 1847, since practicing in and around Mount Airy, arrived here this evening from his home, in order to consult Dr Wm H. Pancoast, Demonstrator of Anatomy in his Alma Mater, Prof Samuel Gross, and other eminent physicians as to the death and future disposition of the celebrated Siamese twins, Chang and Eng, whose family physician he has been for twenty five years at their home—or rather homes for they had two, three and five miles respectively from Mount Airy The correspondent of the Tribune had a long talk with him in the office of Dr Pancoast, who had on the first receipt of the news of the death of the twins, telegraphed, through the Mayor, for permission to make a post mortem examination for the benefit of science Many of the current stories published in newspapers and encyclopedias are shown to be untrue by the physician, who has known these two singular beings intimately for a quarter of a century Of late years, owing originally to an estrangement between the wives arising out of partiality shown to one over the other in matters of dress and jewelry they have kept up separate establishments, or farms, two miles apart

It was their unvarying custom to spend three days and a half of each week in each house. So unalterable was this custom that the funeral of a son on one occasion, and the wedding of a daughter on another could not be attended by them because the ceremonies were not at the right house Thursday Jan 15th, was the day for Chang to visit Eng's house The former was the weaker of the two, having been paralyzed three years before on the right side, and ever since suffering from chronic pneumonia. On this night the extreme cold, the rough road and an open carriage conduced to throwing Chang into a severe attack of his affection of the throat, and he sent word to his wife next day that though better, he thought he would have died that night On Friday night the twins slept in the second story of the house, having no one in the room but a little negro, who said they got up after midnight and sat around the fire, Chang complaining very much of his throat Eng wanted to go back to bed, but Chang said it hurt his breast too much to lie down However they did soon afterward get to bed, and nothing more was heard till, toward daybreak, Eng was heard crying out for his son William, who slept in an upper room When the family was aroused after repeated callings from Eng, they found Chang dead and Eng with a cold perspiration starting out from his face pallid, and complaining of excessive cold in his feet, and asking them to pull and rub them However, in about one and a half hours after the alarm Eng expired, all the symptoms of coming death being present.

During the interval they had sent for Dr Hollingsworth, five miles away in the village, but before he could arrive death had come to both The wife of Eng said that he was as hearty as ever he had been, the night before, having eaten a substantial supper, and was in nowise apparently affected by his brother's indisposition After the doctor arrived he found them both dead, and observed no difference in their condition from that of ordinary corpses He at once, with a due regard for the interests of his profession and science generally, took measures for the preservation of the bodies until the consent of the families of the deceased could be obtained to a post-mortem examination, and until medical men could have an opportunity to consult. As to the consent of the families the most strenuous objection comes from an invalid daughter in the last stages of consumption and other members desire to hear from distant sons of the deceased, one of whom is in California and two or three in Missouri The doctor, with great forethought, dissuaded them from burying the bodies in a neighboring church yard and urged that it would be better to embalm or preserve them as long as possible To do this he had a strong wooden box incased in tin with charcoal surrounding the bodies and deposited the whole in the cellar of the dwelling house where the cold weather will preserve the bodies at least two weeks

MORE RINGS IN NEW YORK.—A New York dispatch of Jan 31st says The Tribune is evidently making preparations for some startling announcements of corruption and fraud in Government or municipal circles It puts forth the following mysterious double leaded announcement in its editorial column this morning "There were laid before us yesterday certain startling documents gravely affecting high officials The publication of them, to us, is a clear duty but we are unwilling to permit our columns to be used in promulgating papers that must bring such discredit on the American name while there is the remotest possibility of our being able to establish their lack of authenticity We have, therefore set on foot a thorough investigation which will determine the matter In the meantime and for this sole reason, we reserve the documents themselves and refrain from any expression of opinion concerning the conduct of the officers involved

At the annual election of Dalles Grange P of H the following persons were elected for the ensuing fiscal year Robert Mays Master J H Phillips, Overseer James Fulton Lecturer Daniel Bolton, Chaplain A McHaley Stewart Louis Davenport, Assistant Stewart F S Perham Secretary M M Cushing Treasurer Mrs C Donnell Ceres Mrs E J Bolton Flora Mrs M Stillwell Pomona Mrs M J Beezley J A Steward The Grange numbers thirty members and is prospering finely

The very quiet condition of affairs in our local money market precludes the necessity of any extended comment at this time Our city banks are still amply supplied with loanable funds and with their resources well at command are doing quite a fair business The legal tender at the interior [illegible] reported as being in general circulation than [illegible] at this season of the year

Eastern Markets.

A commercial letter by telegraph dated New York February 1st to a San Francisco exchange says The market for flour has declined Shippers have restricted their purchases materially and the local trade is not sufficient to sustain the values The falling off in price was from 30c to [illegible] bbl which was more prominent in the lower grades which are generally taken for export Wheat has materially declined Liverpool advices have been unfavorable besides adding strength to the Western markets Choice grades of spring have not been plenty and this in a measure accounts for the low prices Barley has continued to diminish in supply and large portions of the receipts have been sold previous to their arrival Most of the offerings were of Canadian production and commanded as high as $2 10 ꟻ bushel afloat Six thousand bushels of California sold at $2 10

Wool buyers have operated to the extent of their actual wants and the market closes quiet Prices are not quotably off There is a feeling on the part of the holders of medium and lower grades of wool, which are not in liberal request at the extreme prices now quoted The class of goods in which these wools enter are not moving freely and the prices realized by manufacturers are said to be unremunerative at present In raw material the stock is not very excessive but it is ample for the requirements of the trade even under the active demands, and holders are disposed to yield only to induce manufacturers to operate more freely, and not in consequence of a pressure of stock

In petroleum and naval stores there has been no important movement and values have ruled lower Business in all kinds of oils has shown marked improvement in comparison with the same weeks of the past year Prices of nearly all kinds are higher

In groceries there has been a light business both in coffee and sugar, and prices of the latter articles show some weakness In the whole of the former a reduction of ¼c ꟻ lb has been made.

In tea the market for all descriptions has been rather quiet. The tone and prices are somewhat irregular

Hides are dull and prices easier Leather is steady and firm.

Hops are steady and the stock of good hops in this market are extremely low With the exception of a few hundred bails of fine California and a few choice Bavarian arriving weekly, there is nothing here worth mentioning 40c however is still the best price attainable

Grain Crops and Markets.

According to Beerbohm's Trade List of London Jan, 3d the arrivals of Wheat into the United Kingdom for the week ending that day had not been very heavy, being only 811 791 cwt against 1 011 288 cwt the previous week On the same date there were 305 Wheat cargoes on the way to British ports which were estimated at 1 349 910 qrs. The growing Wheat crop was looking healthy at that report but cold weather was hoped for as it would retard the too rapid growth of the cereal. In France, the Wheat markets were all reported firm, with large arrivals at the port of Marseilles The German markets had been rather inactive but in Belgium demand and prices had both advanced. At Odessa, Russia, prices maintained their high rate owing to the scantiness of supplies The same circular makes a note of a movement which has an air of novelty at this time It is the shipment of some cargoes of Barley from Great Britain to the United States 'but not' says the Trade List, 'of sufficient extent to affect the market.

The National Crop Reporter presents in its last issue the closing results of the Wheat Barley and Rye crop of 1873 Respecting the leading staple Wheat, it says "In the item of Wheat we find that nine States producing an aggregate in 1872 of 171 264,540 bushels, gained in 1873 at the average rate of 4 per cent. or in all a total of 6 902 658 bushels and making the aggregate yield for 1873 in those States, 178 367 218 bushels The States showing a deficiency as compared with 1872 and the amounts of the latter are Illinois 3 10ths of 1 per cent; Indiana, 3 8-10ths per cent Ohio 9-10ths of 1 per cent and Tennessee 17 2 10ths per cent The States showing a comparative gain are Iowa 7 5 10ths per cent. Minnesota 15 2 10ths per cent Missouri 21 per cent. and Wisconsin, 17 per cent The quantity of the crop varies in the different States but it is evident that the average was superior to that of the previous year

Miscellaneous.

The Chronicle says There was sent from San Francisco last year 1 217,081 lbs Barley and from Sacramento 1 307 417 lbs, total, 2 524 498 lbs or 1 262 tons The large amount of Butter sent last year was principally Eastern, returned on account of an unappreciative market here In Coffee there was a very marked gain over the previous year leaving this market in several instances, almost bare of lots in first hands In domestic Wool the gain for 1873 is 8,331 034 lbs Merchandise unspecified in 1873 amounts to 2 647,684 lbs"

The quantities of freight forwarded to the East over the Central Pacific Railroad in 1873 from the points named are shown in the following statement

From	lbs	From	lbs
San Francisco	53 696 210	Sacramento	7 194 004
San Jose	1 754 576	Marysville	1 093 932
Stockton	111 709
Totals (lbs)			72,430 432

The totals for 1871 and 1872 were 64,305 045 lbs and 65 283 903 lbs respectively, showing a gain for the year of 7 166 579 lbs over 1872 and of 8 145 437 lbs, as compared with 1871

The coal supply of the United States for 1868 is estimated at forty three million tons or about one million more than last year—the greater part of it anthracite. The Pennsylvania product of anthracite for 1872 was valued at fifty three million dollars

The Eastport Coos Bay Mining Company have declared a dividend of $5 per share amounting to $2 500 payable immediately This is the first dividend since last April In the meantime considerable money has been expended in needed improvements Two fine steamers have been built for this trade and are now running regularly between Coos Bay and San Francisco The company find no difficulty in disposing of all the coal they bring to market and at good prices

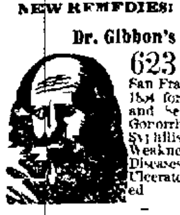
MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and the broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guard sons, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, who is a man who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by assuming the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry or you may fall into the hands of some charlatan

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of [illegible] the loins, weakness [illegible] blunted intellect [illegible] approaching [illegible] acquaintance [illegible] memory [illegible]

[illegible] Dr. Le Richau's GOLDEN SPANISH [illegible] sure of Gonnorhea, Gleet, Irritation, Gravel, and all Urinary or G[illegible] [illegible]ements Price, $2 50 per bottle.
